Medical Records & Confidentiality

Walcote Health Ltd respects your right to confidentiality with regards to your medical records and care. No third party will be made aware of your medical information unless you specifically request release and you provide consent accordingly.

There are only very rare circumstances when disclosure of personal medical information without consent may be justified and these include requirement by law, significant public interest (e.g. serious risk to the public) and risk of significant personal harm.

You have a right of access to your medical records. Please see the 'Subject Access Requests' notice in this folder for further details.

Thank you
